

Exercise 1 – RTICFA Framework

Prompt:

Role: Act as a content writer.

Task: Write a blog introduction for a productivity app.

Input: The app helps users manage daily tasks, set reminders, and track progress.

Context: This blog will be published on the company website to introduce the app.

Format: Write in one engaging paragraph, around 100 words.

Audience: Beginners looking for simple productivity tools.

Exercise 2 – ERA Framework

Prompt:

Expectation: Generate a polite and professional follow-up email with clear next steps after a client meeting.

Role: Act as a business communication specialist.

Action: Write a follow-up email thanking the client for their time, summarizing key discussion points, and mentioning the next steps.

Exercise 3 – APEX Framework

Prompt:

Action: Write an Instagram post for a new café opening.

Purpose: Attract local customers and create excitement about the launch.

Expectation: Use a friendly, promotional tone, keep it short, include emojis, and add a call-to-action.

Exercise 4 – TASK Framework

Prompt:

Task: Respond to a customer complaint about delayed delivery.

Action: Apologize, explain the delay, and provide a solution.

Context: The delivery was delayed due to unexpected logistics issues, and the customer is frustrated.

Exercise 5 – CARE Framework

Prompt:

Context: New employees are joining the company and need to understand the leave policy.

Action: Explain the company leave policy in simple terms.

Result: The explanation should be clear, easy to understand, and helpful.

Example: Include one sample scenario showing how an employee can apply for leave.

Exercise 6 – RISE Framework

Prompt:

Role: Act as a technical trainer.

Input: Explain the concept of APIs.

Steps: Break it down step by step in simple language for non-technical users.

Example: Include one real-world example or analogy to make it easier to understand.

Exercise 7 – CASE Framework

Prompt:

Context: A company is hiring fresh graduates for entry-level software roles.

Action: Generate HR interview questions.

Scenario: The candidates are freshers with limited work experience.

Example: Include a mix of technical and behavioral sample questions.

Exercise 8 – ACRE Framework

Prompt:

Audience: Employees of the company.

Context: The company is announcing an upcoming holiday for all staff.

Request: Write a clear and friendly internal holiday announcement.

Example: Include a sample announcement with date, holiday name, and any office closure details.